Forward

On the 27th day of August, 1908, a reunion of the Graessle-Gracely family was held on Daniel Graessle's place near Spencerville, Ohio. This was the first reunion of the family ever held. One hundred and fifty were present. The weather was ideal, everybody seemed to be pleased, and the reunion was a most satisfactory and delightful affair.

Two meals were served on a long table, capable of seating about one hundred persons, and all the good things that country and town could furnish were freely and abundantly served.

A program was arranged for the afternoon, consisting of songs and speeches. A history of the Graessle-Gracely family, compiled by David Graessle, was read and listened to with much interest. Resolutions were passed that the history should be printed in booklet form, also that another reunion should be held in the following year at the same place.

Explanatory Note

When the first member of our family came to this country in 1832, he was not able to write his name in English characters, and the people, not understanding German, began to write it in different ways. The first legal document, a deed, has it, Graisly. This spelling is found in quite a number of early legal documents. The naturalization paper, taken out eight or ten years later, has it Grasle. About half a dozen different ways were made use of in writing the name in legal documents extant at this time.

The family itself, afterwards, adopted two different spellings, some writing it Gracely, others Graessle. Neither of the two spellings can now be found in any existing document, so far as known earlier than 1850.

Although we may spell our name in different ways, we all are of the same original Graessle-Gracely stock, common branches from the same root. Of course, it would be desirable, that the name would be spelled alike by all, yet at this time it seems improbable that uniform spelling will ever be adopted. Suum Cuique.

History

The original home of our family, so far as we know, was at Ellmendingen, Baden, Germany. They were of the Protestant faith. The oldest family document now in the possession of David Graessle, is a letter written in the year 1833 by several relatives including the wife of John Graessle, to her son, Jacob Frederick, who had emigrated to this country in the preceding year. In this letter it is stated that John Graessle, the father of Bernhart and Jacob F., had died about Easter of the same year, at the age of 65 years. The wife of John Graessle, whose maiden name was Maria Catharine Kies, came to this country with her son, Bernhart and his family, in the year 1840. She died in the year 1847, in Marion County, Ohio, at the age of 68 years, and is buried in the graveyard of the Zion Methodist Episcopal Church, five miles south east of Marion. Ohio.

The mother of Maria, Catharina Grassle was born in the year 1778. Her parents were Bernhard and Barbara Kies, the latter's maiden name being Kuest. Johann and Maria Catherine Graessle, had two sons, Bernhart and Jacob Fredrich, and two sisters, Catherine and one who died in Germany. Jacob F. came to this country in 1832, when he was about 26 years old. He came to Marion County, where a few relatives, who had come over two years earlier, were living. The name of these relatives was Seiter. From Cleveland to Marion they came in an ox-wagon, and were often compelled to hew their way through the forests as they passed along. Hungry wolves often prowled around their cabin door.

Government land could then be bought at 80 cents an acre. After having cleared a small piece of land, he erected a loghouse thereon, and thus began the life of a farmer. Being a carpenter by trade, he spent a part of his time in this line of business. He often walked to Columbus, 40 miles distant, to work there for a short time. In the year 1836 he heard Dr. Wm. Nast preach at King's home, about 3 miles south from his home, on the Whetstone river. Both brothers joined the German Methodist Episcopal Church in the year 1845. Both were licensed exhorters for about 50 years. Of this office they made abundant use, some times speaking for an hour, or even more. They had the pleasure of seeing their children brought into the church of which they themselves were faithful and official members.
